Hey Nikki,

Thank you for sending the acreage information. We pulled the information into a spreadsheet that is attached.

In many cases there are small differences compared to the information from the data call. Some of these differences seem likely due to rounding. However, there are a few cases where the differences appear to be due to the inclusion of inholdings in the data call information. There are also a couple that we had specific questions that are noted in the spreadsheet. Our goal is make sure we are using the correct information.

Thank you for helping with this.

Ben
